

Joel Hardin Professional Tracking Services

For more than forty years, Joel Hardin has followed the footsteps of others, leaving in his trail thousands of trained trackers for military, law enforcement, search and rescue operations. Joel Hardin Professional Tracking Services provides expert trackers, teachers or consultants to meet the specific needs of each client. From world-wide deployment of expert trackers – to training and consultation for trackers and groups wanting to increase awareness of footprint evidence in crime scene and field investigations – there's a service to fit every need. Welcome to our home on the Internet. This site has been designed as a comprehensive source of information for our company and services. Contact us today for more information on how we can provide you with expert tracking, teaching and consulting services.
